Good morning Ms. Rumore, Attached is the T3 for the Biktarvy lot CCXKVA. I apologize, the note at the bottom of the email regarding the Seroquel was just a note to Charlie and is not related to this issue with White Cross Pharmacy. Please let me know if I can assist with anything else.

Hi Charlie:

I am putting together the letter now.

I have a few questions. I do not see any mention of Seroquel ER 300 mg for lot CCPDPA as indicated in Abbie's email, just generic Excedrin. Please let me know. In previous correspondence with Gilead you indicated generic Excedrin.

For lot CCXKVA, Gilead is saying White Cross purchased from you. They have attached a PO. Please send me the T3 on this. We should provide it.

Best,

Martha

Subject: Gilead - Biktarvy information

Importance: Low

Good afternoon,

After sorting through various emails and information I believe we have three things going on here. 1.) White Cross pharmacy has dispensed a bottle of Biktarvy (lot CCXKVA) which is in question by Gilead and was sold by us. 2.) We inquired about Biktarvy (lot CCPDPA) to verify in August because someone complained about the packaging. 3.) We inquired about Biktarvy (Lot CDGXKA) in October, while we attempted to verify the T3 and expiration date.

Biktarvy (lot CCPDPA) was verified to be a legitimate product by Gilead in August (8/19/20) CB responded that we were investigating a customer complaint (White cross claimed this bottle contained Seroquel ER 300), which is the attachment entitled 'Biktarvy lot CCPDA complaint convo'

In early October (10/6/2020) we attempted to verify a transaction on the T3, Rochester Drug from Gilead. We were unable to because RD is closed, we had the conversation in 'Biktarvy CDGXKA information' We were attempting to verify this product because it was sold in 2018. We were looking for some information regarding expiration date and trying to understand the validity of the T3s we had received since some of the drugs were purchased over 2 years ago.

After reviewing our records, I do not see any conversations related to the lot number (CCXKVA) which is referenced in the letter from Gilead. I only see that the of the two lots we inquired about, one was verified and one was inconsistent with their records.

Let me know if you need additional information. I have had Dakota start to pull the T3s together as well. This situation and lot numbers do NOT address the issue with Biktarvy and WW customer Medicine Shoppe, which is the other customer we have taken a return for.
